My dear Mr. Fox

I called to see you yesterday at Mint, but you had left. I also called once or twice before.

I am now at our old home; and in the house where Dr. Gibbons and all our children were born. Two of my daughters and two grand

daughters are also here.

Can you yet tell whether you will be ready for us to return to work by the twentieth?

And if you will not be ready, shall I prolong my stay here for a few days, or until about the end of next week?

Very respectfully

Phebe Earle Gibbons.

My dear Mr. Fox

I called to see you yesterday at Mint, but you had left. I also called once or twice before.

I am now at our old home; and in the house where Dr. Gibbons and all our children were born. Two of my daughters and two grand-daughters are also here.

Can you yet tell whether you will be ready for us to return to work by the twentieth? And if you will not be ready, shall I prolong my stay here for a few days, or until about the end of next week?

Very respectfully,
